Do You Know What It Stands For?

You want your car to reflect in its name the judgment you exercise in choosing it. You want to mention the name with pride, not apology. You ask no odds of anybody, or of any car--no matter what its price--if yours is an Overland. To manufacture an automobile that will give fairly good service with expert supervision is not a very difficult matter. But to produce a first-rate automobile, a car that gives uniform and unfailing satisfaction in the hands of the average user, was left to the Willys-Overland Company.

Motor==4x42 in.; 30 H. P. Wheelbase==110 in. Ig= nition--Remy Magneto and battery. Rear Axle--? floating; Hyatt bearings. Tires--32x32 in.; quick detachable rims. Finish--Overland blue, gray wheels, nickle aluminum trimmings.

The Overland has been, and is, a splendid proof of its makers' conviction that a motor car of sterling qualities can be sold to the public at a price lower than that demanded by other manufacturers of similar cars.

Automobile values must be looked at from several different angles. You must consider not only the price but what that price buys you. You must take into consideration the power, the strength, the beauty, the construction, the size, the appearance and the equipment of the car. You must judge a car by the material in it, the work-manship on it, the methods employed to produce it, and last but not least, the facilities behind the production methods.

Take the equipment item alone. The car has a Warner speedometer—the best made; a line mohair top and top covering; a clear vision windshield; a self-starter and Prestolite tank—every practical accessory made for an automobile. And all for the one price. No "extras."

Only enormous capital and gigantic preparation can accomplish this. The Overland has both, and in this regard is in a class all by itself.
